Christian Identity and Mission in a Divided Europe

Our world is facing a number of challenges, e.g. globalisation, nationalism, terrorism, refugees, atheism and radical Islam. In Europe many of these questions lead to divisions, not only in a political and social spheres, but also on the theological level.

The biennial FEET conference will deal with these themes from a theological perspective. How can we define a Christian view on current tendencies in Europe? What constitutes our Christian identity? How are the Churches and Christian theology to respond to such significant and vital issues?

FEET invites theologians from all over Europe to this discussion at its 2018 conference which will be held in a very suitable place: Prague, in the centre of Europe.

You are most welcome.

Welcome to FEET 2018 in Prague!

Fellowship of European Evangelical Theologians

The Fellowship of European Evangelical Theologians is a network of theological scholars that seeks to combine the highest academic standards with a commitment to the authority of Scripture and to orthodox, biblical theology.

FEET seeks to encourage individual scholars and institutions that see biblical and theological scholarship as their calling. The primary activity of FEET is to organise a biennial international conference on a specific theological theme of contemporary significance.

The work of FEET has led to the establishment of several national organisations such as the Association Franco-phone Européenne de Théologiens Évangéliques in France, the Arbeitskreis für evangelikale Theologie in Germany, the Arbeitskreis für biblisch-erneuerte Theologie in Switzerland, and the Fellowship of Evangelical Theologians in the Czech Republic.

FEET is closely associated with the European Journal of Theology, a scholarly and professional journal carrying articles in English, French and German.
